BELIEVE SUBMARINE
WILL BE CONVOYED

Washington, Aug. 4.—Ocean-going German fighting submarines are off the Virginia capes to protect the German submarine freighter Deutschland, in the belief of Captain Knowell of the Washington-Norfolk steamer Southland, arriving here today.

According to Captain Knowell, who left Norfolk last night, the Deutschland was enabled to get away because the presence of the submarines became known to the allied patrol of warships off the Virginia capes, driving all but one British cruiser to a distance beyond the three-mile limit.
